Small Trunks Needed for Russian Paper Currency

MOSCOW—Americans contemplating visits to Russia should bring with them suit cases of ample proportions in which to carry their money, for ordinary pocket books have long since ceased to be adequate for carrying the huge quantities of paper currency that one is required to have in order to exist. The following menu from one of Moscow's leading restaurants indicates that one can dine rather well for 25,000,000 or 30,000,000 roubles.

Beefsteak	5,000,000 roubles
Soup	3,500,000 "
Cauliflower	5,000,000 "
Strashevsky	4,000,000 "
Potatoes	3,500,000 "
Ham (two slices)	4,500,000 "
Coffee	1,500,000 "
Chopins	6,000,000 "

Mother (to sister)—No, I can never give you my daughter, I have quite made up my mind.

Sister—Then I'm doubly disappointed I hoped that I would have a lovely wife and a young-looking mother-in-law.

Well, you may call again. Perhaps I'll change my mind.

News in Brief

Port Hope. — The C. P. R. Port Hope bridge is fifteen hundred feet long. It is an interesting question how long it will require to paint it and how much paint will be used on the work. There are at present eleven men swinging the brushes; they will be busy for at least eight weeks and three hundred gallons of paint will spread over the long span. The work of preparing the girders is a big job and a tedious one. Men go over the entire structure with small picks and hammers removing all the corroded parts after which it is brushed down with steel brushes. A graphite paint is used and it comes all ready prepared for the work. The wages of the men for this job will exceed two thousand five hundred dollars, which gives some idea what the painting account for the C. P. R. would amount to each year. There are two cars which provide eating and sleeping quarters for the men. It is just seven years ago that this big structure was given a liberal coat of paint.

Foremost In The Limelight Midnight Robbery

Foremost Bank
Loses $82,000

Armed and masked bandits noiselessly entered the Union Bank at Foremost between midnight Monday and 2 o'clock Tuesday morning. It is believed there were six men.

They got in so quietly that two clerks who were sleeping upstairs never heard the robbers until they were woken up with revolvers touching their faces, they proceeded to hand and gag Nick McPhee, the Teller, then they forced Jennings, the Junior clerk to go downstairs and open the outer door of the safe, they then bound and gagged him and blew open the inner door of the safe, and inside they found $12,000 in cash and 20,000 in negotiable securities, of which $80,000 are said to have been Victory Bonds, the robbers took the whole lot.

To prevent any pursuit they had cut all the wires and disabled all the cars that they found on the streets. They got clear away and the police have no clues, they may have gone in any direction, either across into Montana or back in Alberta, anywhere North from Foremost.

C.P.R. and U.S. Ships
Had Interesting Race

Vancouver, B.C.—Officers of the new Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Canada, which arrived in Vancouver recently report an interesting little tussle between Kobe and Yokohama with the Admiral line messenger ship President Jackson, formerly the Silver State.

The American vessel left Kobe half an hour after the Empress and came along with a fine burst of speed. They were neck and neck at Keel-cape and then a clear long stretch of sea, the Canadian vessel opened up and soon was well in the lead. The President Jackson, which is owned by the U.S. Shipping Board is the fastest American passenger vessel on the Pacific.

Winnipeg.—Western Canada recently welcomed the first contingent of its 1922 army of settlers from Europe and the United States when 350 persons—men, women and children—arrived at the Canadian Pacific and Union depots. Immigration officials state that the influx for the season definitely is "on." These settlers will go on the land in Manitoba and the western provinces. The new arrivals, for the most part, are family parties with effects or money, or both, and are destined to live on farms on the prairies and not to migrate to the cities.

Manitoba's share of these settlers was a farmer group of 111 persons who expect to locate on farms. Family groups composed this party, all entirely. Additional parties were bound for Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia. A party of 40 immigrants arrived from Roscoe, Minnesota, and was accompanied by 9 cars of effects. All are bound for the western prairie. Hans D. Saskatchewan, was the destination of 8 of the cars, one went to Melrose, Saskatchewan, one to Clyde, Alberta and one to Cudworth, Saskatchewan. Passengers from the steamer Tunisian, numbering 178, arrived in Winnipeg over the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Anticipation!

"Allo, Bill! I haven't seen you for weeks—"

Bill's pal stopped suddenly. Then "But what's wrong, man?" he asked. "You're lookin' mighty seedy. Been ill—eh?"

Bill passed a horny hand across his brow.

"No," he replied "I ain't been ill. It's work we'd do for me this week. From seven in the morning till six at night, and only one hour off. Think of it, mate!"

"Lumme!" replied the other. "And 'ow long 'ave you been there?"

"I ain't been there yet," retorted Bill. "Begin to-morrow," he added gloomily, as he slowly munched off.

What She Said

Into the office of a local newspaper walked a shrewd old gentleman. Behind the counter sat a damsel, an attractive damsel, absorbed in a letter from the "boy" who escorted her to the "pictures" on Saturdays.

The old gentleman coughed, but no notice was taken of him. Again he coughed, but no notice was taken of him. Again he coughed but without result. So, tapping the counter gently he politely asked:

"May I have copies of your paper for a week back?"

Still the damsel continued reading.

The old gentleman grew angry.

"May I have papers for a week back?" he repeated firmly.

The damsel focused two dark eyes upon him.

"Why not by the dung stove next door?" she asked. "It's a plester you want." And she resumed her reading.

The Only Way

Sandy and Donald were discussing the domestic infelicities of a neutral friend.

"Aye, ay," said Sandy. "Jamie Thompson has a sure way that's wife's his. They say they're quarrelling."

"What else can ye expect?" was Donald's scornful retort. "The pair couldn't continue married after twenty or thirty seven years. Man, he had no chance to ken the woman in such a short time. When I was courtin', I courted for twenty year!"

This little dialogue took place on a railway journey; and in the further course of the conversation after some roughhouse, listening and muck amused.

"And may I ask" he enquired "if matrimonial bliss followed this long courtship?"

Donald looked at him reproachfully.

Ireland Sustains Loss Through Sudden Death Of Arthur Griffith

Dublin—Dublin was shocked to learn of the sudden death of Arthur Griffith, President of the Irish Executive, and everywhere there was comment on an unexpected event in troubled Ireland.

Death came at a nursing home apparently from a heart attack, following an operation a few days ago for tonsillitis. Few people in Dublin even knew that the ardent worker for the Free State cause had been ill. Immediately signs of mourning were displayed, and flags were set at half-mast on buildings and ships in the harbor.

The first question on all lips was what effect the death of the leader would have on the solution of the problems before the provisional government. His colleague, Michael Collins, recently has directed his attention almost entirely to the military operation against the Irish rebels, while the country looked to Griffith to manage the civil affairs until the rebellion was suppressed.

The president's associates were stunned by the news of his death. Not one of them was prepared to discuss it at first.

Prayers were said in all the Catholic Churches for the repose of the soul of Mr. Griffith, and there were many signs of mourning throughout the city. Numerous expressions of sympathy have been received by Mrs. Griffith, among them messages from King George, the Irish police leaders and Irish bishops. After tendering his sympathy, the message of King George said:

"In spite of his untimely death, I pray that Ireland may soon receive the peace for which he labored."

The Irish Government's telegram stated a statement expressing its firm determination to carry on the life work of Mr. Griffith to "the achievement which he so nearly realized."

William Cosgrave, Minister of Local Government, who is acting President of the Irish Provisional Government, expressed his belief that it was the distinct wish of the Government that nothing be allowed to interfere with events that had been planned.

London—Mr. Lloyd George has telegraphed Michael Collins, head of the Irish Provisional Government, expressing his deepest desire on learning of the death of Arthur Griffith, Mr. Lloyd George's telegram said:

"My admiration for his single-minded patriotism, his ability, sincerity and courage, had grown steadily since I met him first less than a year ago. His character made a deep impression upon the British mind, who shared his noble and unflinching labors in which he was called upon to play such testing and difficult part. His loss will fall heavily on Ireland, but I trust his work will go on to complete success."

Comments Empire Exhibit Toronto—Declaring that the remedy for Britain's post war ills lies in developing inter-imperial trade, Lord Morris, former Premier of Newfoundland, but now a resident of London, England, who is a visitor in Toronto, expressed the opinion that the British Empire Exhibition to be held in 1924 will be a powerful agent to that end.

Refuse Wheat Board Chairmanship

Ottawa—H. W. Wood has definitely refused to accept the chairmanship of the Wheat Board, it was reported here on good authority.

Mr. Wood was nominated by the Governments of Saskatchewan and Alberta after James Stewart, of Winnipeg, had declined to accept the chairmanship.

The opinion is gaining strength in official circles that owing to the difficulty in securing a satisfactory chairman, there will be no Wheat Board to handle this year's crop, and its organization will be deferred until next year. It is understood that if the effort to organize a board to handle the 1922 crop is to be continued, the board will be next offered to Hon. T. A. Crevier, leader of the National Progressive party.

The Prime Minister also telegraphed his condolences to Mrs. Griffith, saying: "I am certain Ireland will have reverence his memory as one of the most loyal, gifted and courageous sons."

Immigration Department Active

More Work Being Done Than Generally Known, Says R. J. C. Stead

Winnipeg—Winnipeg, it ever, had the assistance of the Union of Canadian Municipalities been involved more extensively, or executed with greater success, than during the past year, according to the report submitted by A. D. Shibley, Secretary-Treasurer, at the convention here.

Reviewing the union's official activities during the year, Mr. Shibley mentioned the application of the Bell Telephone Company for increased rates, the problem created by the flow of immigration to the cities, where there was not work for all, and the reduction in the check tax for which he gave the union credit, involving a saving in municipal funds of hundreds of thousands annually.

The financial position of the union was said to be most satisfactory. Invitations for the 1922 convention have been received from Halifax, Windsor, Port William, Regina and Edmonton.

Taking up the cudgels in defense of the Department of Immigration and Colonization, R. J. C. Stead, Director of Publicity for the department, declared that more was being done to bring immigrants to Canada than many Canadians appeared to be aware of.

"I have been asked," said Mr. Stead, "when the Immigration proposes to resume its Immigration activities, and at the very moment that question was asked advertisements were appearing in no less than four thousand newspapers in the United States."

Mr. Stead said there were many kinds of campaign of this kind which could not be shown from the house, but, because department officials failed to shout, it must not be supposed that the department was inactive.

Chicago—Dr. Charles Stetmeyer, of the General Electric Company, told the West of Illinois Industrial Congress that "there may be a time when power to turn the wheels of industry will be furnished by radio. In some respects radio power transmission exists today, for the message you receive by radio has been carried by electric waves from the sending station to the receiving station. Successful work is now done in directing radio waves as, for instance, our trans-Atlantic stations sent out most of their power eastward."

U.S. Editors to Visit West

Victoria, B.C.—Editors of newspapers from the Dakotas and the adjacent States will tour Western Canada and British Columbia to report on the situation of the unemployed.

The party will leave Winnipeg about August 17 and reach here about the end of the month. They are coming as the guests of the Department of Immigration and Colonization under Hon. Charles Stewart. The British Columbia Government will likely appoint a representative to meet the visitors.

Many delegates declared the municipalities were not getting fair treatment from the Government and the executive was instructed to urge the Federal Government to change the law so as municipalities could collect from Provincial Government a share of the money expended in relief.

Albertain Leage, of the city of Quebec, said the city had spent over $150,000 for relief, of which $40,000 should have been repaid by the provincial authorities and the Federal Government, but no settlement had yet been made.

A Concession to Home Investors

In offering to renew the five and a half per cent, Canadian Government Bonds maturing December 1st, at the same rate of interest as is carried, by the maturing Bonds, and allowing a bonus of one month's interest, the Minister of Finance is making a material concession to the Canadian investor, as this rate is higher than was paid on the recent Canadian loan in New York. The high value of the security, which is the very best that can be offered in Canada, and the liberal rate of interest should lead to large investment in these Dominion Bonds. Attention is directed to the Official Advertisement giving details.

AN UNWITTING GUEST

The following occurrence is reported to have happened to one of our well known citizens.

A rather unpleasant companion to sleep with is a sattemake and one does not do so from choice. But J. Anderson, who was housed out last week during the high wind, made use of part of the barn to house his family. They made a temporary bed with boards and straw for mattress and were using it, but when they were making up last Monday morning, Mrs. Anderson found the bed still occupied and Mr. Hatler was caught encased therein and appeared to enjoy his sleeping companion. It is needless to say that his snuggles were dispensed forthwith and prevention against future callers of that name taken.

Great Britain is approaching Smoother But Not Smooth Waters Declares Lord Shaw

Victoria, B.C. — "Conservation to be for the land that have you and the community that adopted you is the secret of true happiness of mind."

Lord Shaw of Dunfermline told members of the Canadian Club here recently. Lord Shaw appealed for general community service and civic unity, painted a bright picture of Ireland's future and declared that Britain, after weathering the storm of post-war financial difficulties, was approaching another water.

"The financial position of England has been subjected to enormous strain," said Lord Shaw.

"Gradually I see a righting of the ship. We are approaching smoother but not smooth water. The example of England in her financial policies is today reverberating throughout the world. The question with England is not how much we can save out of foreign nations, who owe us money but how we can give out of our own until the world starts afresh."

"I think well of the future of Ireland. There will come a period when present bitter quarrels are forgotten or at any rate longed, and Ireland may become a brilliant jewel in the crown of the British empire."

Close Application And Hard Work Is The Real Key To Success

Edward W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific railway, is a young man in his forties, who has made a remarkable career. Today he is the successful head of the greatest corporation in the world. Mr. Beatty is more than a hard worker. He is a "boss" man. His hobby is boys, and he is the president of the Boys' Farm and Training School at Shawbridge, Quebec, conducted by the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, of Montreal, and regarded as one of the most successful institutions of its kind on the continent.

Speaking recently to the pupils he gave an address which is worthy of more than passing note. He encouraged the boys in the direction of pointing out that his own start in life was far from auspicious. He said: "When I was a young boy at school I did not believe in study. I worked a little, but I played a lot, and I did many of the things I should not do and left undone many things I should. When I was 12 years of age and had finished one year's course in a prominent school in Toronto, my parents received a report which, without bragging, I think I may say was the worst report ever written. I was a boy. I was in trouble from the beginning of my school life. I had spent most of my time after hours in school, doing the things I should have been doing. The principal of this school reported was received in an accompanied by a note that in the opinion of the principal of that school it would grow largely well if I did not return.

"I do not remember ever having felt so humiliated about anything as when I was in that school. I felt that I had proved to the college and to the other pupils my inability to do as well as the other boys. I had the advantage of the educational opportunities which were offered me. I was sent to another school where my record was not known, for I was a very thankful. I there fell into the hands of a teacher who was one of the best teachers for boys I have ever met, though he had a very violent temper. He encouraged us when he was not abusing us. If anyone showed inclination he was likely to be hit on the head with a ruler, but the first words of encouragement I ever received were from that man. He said that some day if I worked hard I might amount to something, which I never did. He was a very kind man. In any event he gave me an inspiration to study, and so I worked, and the more I worked the more he realized how valuable it was to me. As the years went on my appreciation of this fact increased until I was fully satisfied. I succeeded where he did not work and that fortuitous events or accidents do not make for permanent success."

Mr. Beatty emphasized the necessity for courage. On this point he remarked: "Moral courage like physical courage, is of a great advantage to a boy. Moral courage is what makes a man to do right, regardless of what others think or say, who refused to do wrong even though the temptation. Physical courage is that independence and confidence in your own physical abilities which enabled a man to fight a bully, even though he is physically his superior, because he will not be put down through fear. Physical courage is very common. It extends to a more or less extent in most Canadian boys. Moral courage is more rare."

The third essential emphasized by Mr. Beatty is one seldom stressed, namely, modesty. Mr. Beatty said that he maintained modesty as a principle because it was a quality which as far as the outward evidence was concerned, was fast disappearing from the boys and girls of this generation. After urging the need of education Mr. Beatty finally urged the development of the quality which is described as modesty. Modesty, he said, meant a boy who was courteous, fair and generous, and who respected himself and others. A boy who admired a manly boy. No one

Four Dangerous Explosives

Six Pounds Said to be Sufficient to Blow Up a Building

The household, when making berries and cakes seldom reflects that four is as dangerous an explosive as gunpowder. If the contents of a six pound sack of wheat flour were distributed through the air of a good-sized house, the lighting of a match would blow up the building. Twice the quantity of four netted with four thousand cubic feet of air in a closed place would, if ignited, generate enough force to throw 2,500 tons to a height of one hundred feet. This is the reason of this. When flour is distributed through the air of a room every particle of it comes in contact with the oxygen of the air; consequently it burns instantaneously on contact. In its explosive tendency, for meal dust, rubber dust, sugar-coat and paper dust act similarly. The lighted match goes into the air, and in a few seconds a battle of years that explosion in Canada and the United States have caused the deaths of nearly one hundred people and destroyed more than $100,000,000 worth of property.

Recovered From the Sea

Sailor's Wife Is Found On the Back of Identification Disc

Strange as the story of any detective novel, it is the fact that a sailor, who has just been admitted to probate and is now listed in Somerset House. It is the "last will and testament" of a sailor, William Skinner, who lost his life when the ship, the Federal, was wrecked on the coast of Japan. It is on the form of the ordinary identification disc. On one side, in the usually deeply-punished handwriting, is the name, number, rating and religion of the man to whom it had been issued. The other side of the disc appears at first sight to be just a circular piece of smooth, polished brass. But when viewed at a certain angle, there are letters and numbers engraved there. With a microscope they can be plainly read. They constitute Skinner's will by which he bequeathed everything to his wife. The disc has been recovered from the sea with Skinner's body and on being cleaned revealed its secret.

Indians Dying Off

Natives at Posts on Lake Athabasca Dying From Influenza

Indians are dying off at the posts on Lake Athabasca, due to the influenza epidemic which has been spreading since last summer, according to reports brought from the north coast. Four of the natives having already succumbed to the disease.

Several of the hands have not yet returned from the barren lands, and it is likely that when these come into the post it will be found that their numbers have decreased. Past and Present

The late Mrs. George Gould hated divorce.

At a lakeview dinner party a young divorcee was admiring Mrs. Gould's splendid jewels.

"How did you come to wearing this, isn't it?" she said. "How old-fashioned it looks, doesn't it? In the past they made them so much wilder and heavier than they do now."

"In the past you see," said Mrs. Gould, "they expected them to last a lifetime."

The World Grows Warmer

Indications Go to Show that Northern Hemisphere is Warming Up

The best way in which to comfort ourselves in weather such as we have been having is by consideration of the fact that this winter our country is not growing colder and wetter, but warmer and drier. Particularly the Northern Hemisphere.

The process is, of course, rather a slow one, but it is none the less steady, and of late it seems to have succeeded to some extent. If we possessed records of the weather since the beginning of the Christian era it is certain that the temperature over the whole of Europe and North America would show a startling rise.

Unfortunately the thermometer is a comparatively modern invention, while weather recording is a still more recent innovation. Yet for all that we can find plenty of proof, both in history and in other ways.

For instance, in Caesar's account of the Gallic Wars we had frequent mention of frost so intense that whole armies were able to cross broad rivers on the ice. We know, too, that in those days Germany's winter was almost Arctic in its severity.

These are conditions which have long since passed away, and it is more than twice or three times in a century that a river like the Seine freezes up.

We are also aware that no further back than the sixteenth century the winters in England were, on an average, much more severe than they are nowadays.

Another interesting proof is obtainable from the records of the Hudson Bay Company. These records give in every case the date of the freeze-up of the North-Western rivers and of the break-up of the ice.

We learn from them that within the past two centuries the average length of the season in which the ice has been frozen has decreased by no fewer than ten days.

Again, European glaciers are everywhere receding. The Aletsch, the largest of Alpine glaciers, is receding at the rate of fifty feet yearly, the Grand Desert at nearly double that pace. The Kalksteiner, the Latschen, the Tinal—all are shrinking steadily.

In the great glaciers of the Caucasus the shrinkage is even more noticeable. Eight of the largest are receding at rates varying between twenty and one hundred feet yearly.

The ice fringes of both poles are retreating. Even during the comparatively short "space of time" that the Antarctic has been visited by man the ice has retired some fifty miles.

Let us remember, in process of time this country of ours will once more be growing palms and orange trees. Though we shall not be alive to see it, the change will be something to which our descendants can look forward with confidence.—From the London Daily Mail.

Predicted Development of Telephone 40 Years Ago

The remarkable foresight of the late Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, is shown by the fact that this winter our country is not growing colder and wetter, but warmer and drier. Particularly the Northern Hemisphere.

Bulk Of Immigrants

This Season Said To Be Composed Of Agriculturists

The Place For Unemployed

With Plenty of Work There Will be No Need of Hand-Outs This Winter

The Saskatchewan Government is taking the stand that it will not assist municipalities in providing relief for unemployed this winter, except in really severe cases. So long as able-bodied single men can be provided with work in the country they will be given no assistance.

It is the proper position to take. Because of abnormal conditions, the Federal, Provincial and Municipal Governments have been distributing large sums of money each winter for several years. Some of it has been expended in providing much needed relief in cases of real hardship. Some of it, on the other hand, simply encouraged loafers to loaf.

The harvest this year is exceptional. The farmers of Manitoba will spend probably $6,000,000 for outside work during the next three months. Every able-bodied single man, now without permanent employment, can provide himself with a share of the money by working for the winter by getting out in the harvest fields at once.

There are always needy cases, and not the municipalities nor private citizens can afford to close their hands to appeals to provide for these. But the municipalities must not make a habit of the alms-house, only when it is shown that there is no work available and that due effort was made to provide for the winter work in the fall.

The men who are being brought in for the harvest should be given emphatic notice that the cities will not provide for them in the winter. If they want to stop in the country, they will be able to find work on the farms. Otherwise they should avail themselves of their return tickets—Winnipeg Tribune.

Rumanian Trains Crowded

Conductors Cannot Collect Fares and People Travel Free

Some railroad tracks in Rumania are so jammed with the roving populace that the conductors are powerless to collect fares. Hence the impression is conveyed that one may travel for nothing. Like most other war-torn countries, Rumania has not enough passenger coaches to take care of the throngs of people who want to travel. The Germans and Austrians confiscated most of the rolling stock. Passengers today are forced to ride on the roofs, bumpers, running board and even on the underfruits of the coaches. Fist fights and altercations, to say nothing of accidents, fatal and otherwise, are of frequent occurrence.

Getting His Own Back

London's meanest man has just been discovered. He strode up to the box office of a certain theatre, and presenting a somewhat stout visiting card, asked for free admission.

On the audience on that particular night was a poor one, his request was granted.

At the conclusion of the first act the deadened turned up again in front of the box-office, and, in an aggrieved tone, said:

"Look here, this is a rotten show, give me my card back!"—Pearson's Weekly.

New Use For Movie Camera

Used to Detect Stresses in Metal Rails Caused by Heavy Trains

The moving picture camera is being put to a new and practical use. It is now used to detect the extent to which the rails are deformed when a heavy train passes over them. Moving pictures are taken as the train goes by, and enlargements are made in which the depression, rise or distortion of the rail under the wheels of the locomotive can be seen.

From these the stresses in the metal can be gauged. The films will thus be a very useful auxiliary to the surveyor, when he is laying a new track.

The First Line of National Defence

British Budget Committee's Report

"I suggested to you that the first line of a country's defence, and of the defence of civilized life, is security. If a man's expenditure exceeds his income, if he is wise, he reduces his expenses; if he is foolish, he goes on spending and borrowing on his assets, pledging them for his loan, until he can borrow no longer, and then he is ruined. We are at the parting of the ways. We must reduce our expenditure and cease borrowing or we will come to grief."

The Place For Unemployed

With Plenty of Work There Will be No Need of Hand-Outs This Winter

The Saskatchewan Government is taking the stand that it will not assist municipalities in providing relief for unemployed this winter, except in really severe cases. So long as able-bodied single men can be provided with work in the country they will be given no assistance.

It is the proper position to take. Because of abnormal conditions, the Federal, Provincial and Municipal Governments have been distributing large sums of money each winter for several years. Some of it has been expended in providing much needed relief in cases of real hardship. Some of it, on the other hand, simply encouraged loafers to loaf.

Scriptural Place Names

England Has Borrowed Great Number From the Bible

A jesting remark is a club that Lord Balfour might have his next plea on behalf of British interference in Palestine. The number of Scriptural place-names have been borrowed, said an industrious member to the library to look them up. Thirty Years' Successful Farming

Remarkable Achievement Of A Pioneer Manitoba Farmer

Built Railways During War

General John Stewart Worked With Rapidity that Astounded Authorities

"I met my friend General John W. Stewart, a few days ago, on his return from an expedition to the Gold Coast," says Mr. T. F. O'Connor, in the London Sunday Times. The visit was occasioned by the big contract he is carrying out for building a proper harbor on the coast—a harbor that will revolutionize all the conditions in that very promising colony.

"I was surprised to hear that my friend—who is usually so reticent and so unimpassive as to have got the name 'frozen-faced' in Canada, when he has done some hard work—had to make speeches to representative meetings of the native leaders."

"Jack Stewart," as he is known to his friends, is one of the quiet, modest and almost self-absorbed men who have done big things in the Empire. Some forty years ago he left his native Assam—a little town in Sutherlandshire, and landed in New Quebec with no shillings in his pocket—ten shillings borrowed from a good mother, who with her husband, lived on a small croft in Assam; then Jack Stewart is a millionaire. He had to start as a farm hand with a countryman on a Quebec farm; then he got the railway, and, employing the skillful knowledge he had learned at a Scotch college, was soon seeking the possibilities of railway contracting.

He started by subcontracting for three miles on a railway which a big contracting firm were then building in Montana; made a good bit of money on this, then took a second contract for ten miles; and then showed himself such a genius that he was taken into the big firm; and from that point he has gone on building big railways, tunnels, docks and the rest.

"I spent two years in trying to get Dowling Street to take into its service during the worst moments of the Great War, and man of genius, and failed. On learning I was going up by Mr. Lloyd George—not yet Premier—and asked to send Stewart to him; but Stewart had sailed that morning for Canada. The moment Mr. Lloyd George came to the War Office he summoned Jack Stewart and the west of Canada. Jack had to work at once on the front; brought order out of chaos; and ran up railways with a rapidity that astounded the authorities."

Soon there was a crisis; a general wanted a few miles of line and wanted them at once. I have heard Stewart was asked what time he would take to build them, and Stewart's answer was a week; he finished the job in four days and a half. Stewart made no complaint when the list of honors appeared time after time without his name; the only obstacle I can imagine in his way was the resolution passed by the Canadian Parliament against the acceptance of such honors by a soldier. And this was held to apply to a man who is now one of the largest landholders in Sutherlandshire—of which his native Assam is a part—for he has never lost his love of his native land; he is a Highlander who speaks Gaelic, and has harbored for a soldier the fond feeling for the encouragement of the Celtic language of his people; and perhaps one day desires to be a member in a Scottish Parliament, for he is a Scotch Home Ruler. If I had been Prime Minister he would have found a rest in the British House of Peers, and the only recognition adequate to his vast services to the Empire in his worst hour of need."

German Nature Not Changed

Order Issued By Government Shows Same Old Autocracy

To those unsophisticated souls who appear to think that you can change the people's characteristics by changing their labels, an order just issued by the German Republican Government should bring enlightenment. By this order provincial newspapers throughout Prussia, which heretofore have been serving as official organs for local governments, will have to conform in their editorial attitude to the demands of the German republic or face the risk of being closed down. The German press is administered the same old dose of autocracy, the only change being that it is given under different auspices. It is the story of Russia, of Ireland, of the French Republic, told over and over again.

The moral is plain. It is that human nature cannot be changed overnight, that it is the spirit, not the form, of government which counts; and that it is foolish, if not dangerous, to accept the new doctrine that the nation will make its own destiny. It is given under different auspices. It is the story of Russia, of Ireland, of the French Republic, told over and over again.—From the Ottawa Journal.

The Strike Problem

Richard Spillans, in the Philadelphia Public Ledger

Whether employer or employed, the public in the form of strikes is not the question. Strikes are results. They will continue until their cause is removed. How to do that is a problem. But the problem, however difficult, is not insoluble. A little of the genius that transformed the world from agrarianism to industrialism, mixed with common sense and the Golden Rule, surely would find the way.

KEEP CHILDREN WELL DURING HOT WEATHER

Every mother knows how fatal the hot summer months are to small children. Cholera infantum, diarrhoea, feverish and stomach troubles are rife at this time and often a precious little life is lost after only a few days illness. The mother who keeps baby safe from these troubles, or who troubles come suddenly as it generally does—the baby will bring the baby safely through. They are sold by medicine dealers, or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Cotton Base For Tower

Mixed With Sand It Makes a Solid Foundation

While buildings are to be erected on sandy soil a cotton is commonly employed as a foundation. The first application of the material to this purpose was made when the ancient light at Lonsdale, England, between the North and the South Sea, was built. The cotton which has been encountered in the search for a solid base and at last the wreck of a cotton ship offered an inspiration to the builders. Some of the cotton which had been washed ashore was mixed with sand, and on this a massive stone tower was erected so firmly that it was found to withstand the fury of the mightiest tempests.

It is the latest prediction of Dr. M. A. Nobles, a physician and geologist, who has studied volcanic eruptions since his graduation from Syracuse University in 1881. The western section of the United States between the Rocky Mountains is also on Dr. Nobles' schedule to erupt. Canada is to remain on the map.

The eruption that will wipe out Europe will occur near Budapest, where there are at present 70 volcanoes, Dr. Nobles said.

Home Comforts

A Kansas farmer advertises in The Home Recorder as follows:

"I want a man to work on my farm. I don't give dancing lessons, I have no piano. I can't serve 'plank' steak three times a day. I do give three square meals, a real bed, fair wages. If any man who knows a cow from a tailing mule can hear an arm clock, and get up at 5 o'clock, wants a job, I will agree not to treat him like one of the family, but a darn sight better. Apply at the Steue Night Place, Intervale Road."

DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY NEVER FAILED HER

Mrs. Ervin W. Stairs, East Waterbury, N.H., writes: "I have raised a family of ten children and have always used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for summer complaints, and it has never failed."

For many years, when my children were about, some of my neighbors called in the doctor, but could get no relief. I told them about Dr. Fowler's, and after taking it they were soon well. Dainty and Comfortable Are The New Summer Frocks

Here is shown a very simple little frock for afternoon wear which is very dainty and cool looking. It is of white crepe de chine embroidered in white glass beads in a very simple design, which does not make the dress too heavy as is often the case with beaded gowns.

Religious Freedom Under Bolshevism

The baptizing of children will not be allowed in Russia in the future. The Supreme Council of the Church, which is under Soviet control, is establishing a new church law dealing with baptism. In this the age of baptism is fixed at 18, and the consent of the person concerned must be obtained. Writing and filed with the authorities.

Story Of Heroism

Officer Gave His Life That Seamen Might Live

A thrilling story of heroism at sea was unfolded in Montreal when the master of the steamer Cordoba brought his ship ashore and reported the loss of his second officer, August C. Glasgow.

The officer was washed into the sea during a gale that struck the ship on August 4. Although unable to swim, he refused help and ordered the ye-clubbing boat to save two of the steam-er's sailors who were also thrown into the sea. Both men were saved while the second officer was drowned in full sight of the ship.

CANADA'S SEASIDE AND MOUNTAIN LINKS PLEASE GOLFERS

THE history of golf in Canada is a long story. The first game played on this continent took place in this country and the development of the game here has gone forward with rapid strides. Today the Dominion is dotted with links noted for their excellence from St. Andrews-by-the-Sea in New Brunswick, to Vancouver in British Columbia. Guests are welcome everywhere and United States experts like "Chick" Evans and Oswald Kirby are unanimous in declaring that the quality of Canadian golf is very high. Canada's first club was the Royal Montreal founded in 1873 about fifteen years before St. Andrews Golf Club, the first in the United States, was started in Yonkers, N.Y.

Canada's St. Andrews-by-the-Sea

is a seaside course on Passamaquoddy Bay, an estuary of the Bay of Fundy on near Maine that a long driver could almost put one over the international fence. St. Andrews is not a name to be taken lightly, and when Sir William Van Horne and Lord Shaughran had the $100 yard New Brunswick links laid out, they made it worthy of its great Scotch namesake, the mother links of the golf world. Many of the holes are on sloping ground with the picturesque panorama of the bay in one direction, and the green forests in another. In addition to the regular 18-holes, there is a 9-holes course for ladies and the Algonquin is headquarters for golfers.

The Canadian government owns and manages at Banff, Alberta, one of the most interesting and picturesque links in the world. Banff Golf Course, this year expanded to 18 holes, is nearly a mile above sea-level along the banks of the Bow River. From the edge of the fairways majestic mountains tower a mile above the links and the golfer enjoys his favorite sport in a scenic setting of unperforated beauty. Now and then the "golfer" watching the game is augmented by wild mountain goats who peer down from some lofty ledge at the players. The links are in charge of a competent professional and are a fine test of the game.

Farther west Vancouver and Victoria enjoy golf both summer and winter on links which are a delight to both expert and novice.
